Griffith High School

Winston-Salem
North Carolina

And now we are accredited!

Early in the 1920's, before consolidation, there were only five schools in this community; Eden, with one hundred ninety-one pupils; Hopewell, with sixty pupils; Flat Rock, with seventy-seven pupils; Friendship, with twenty-three pupils; and Pleasant Fork (above), with forty-nine pupils.

These schools were consolidated into one in 1926, and given the name Griffith in honor of Mr. John Franklin Griffith, chairman of the Forsyth Board of Education at that time. In this same year the school term was lengthened from six to eight months. For the building, site, and equipments the cost was $105,000. In 1927-28 the new building saw its first school term, with eighteen class rooms, a science room, a lunch room, and auditorium "fully equipped with the most modern equipment of that time."

Griffith really began its growth in 1937 when there started a movement to build a gymnasium. As a result in 1939 one of the best gymnasiums in the county, at this time, was completed. The lunch-room was moved to the basement of the gym, leaving the basement of the school building to be converted into classroom area. About the same time a new wing containing two new classrooms and a library was added also.

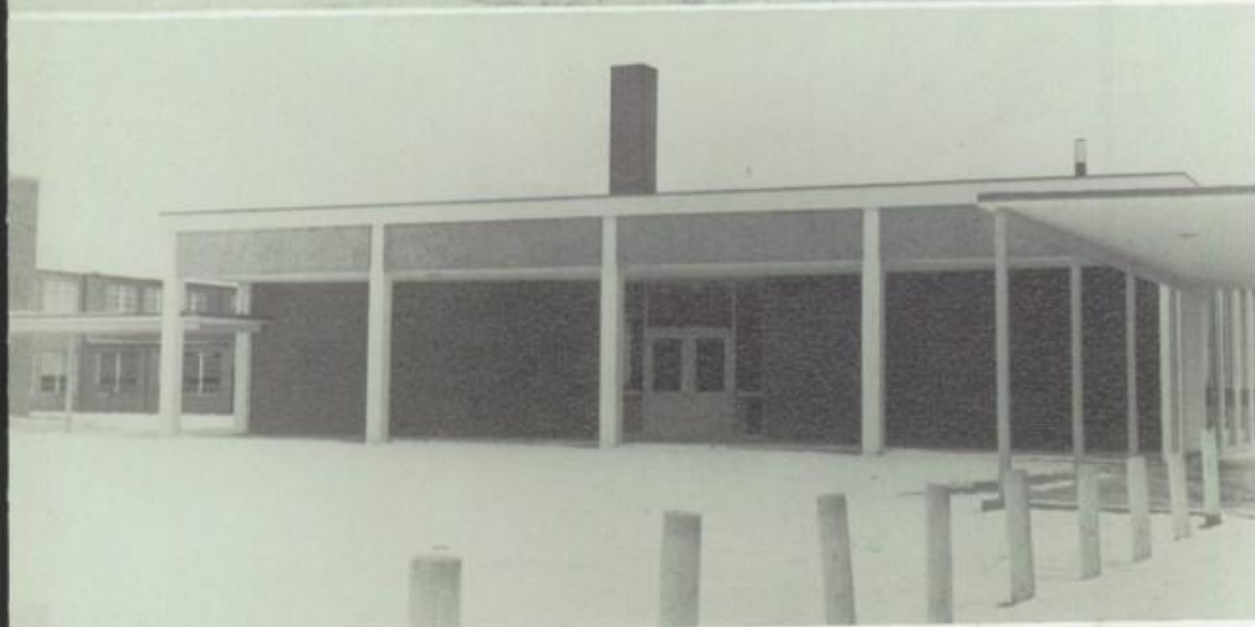

Griffith's pressing need for her expanding high school was filled in the years 1950-56. This new building was added to meet the special needs of the home economics, science, commercial departments, and cafeteria.

In 1958 when our new gym was completed, a new expression was added: "Which gym?" Now Griffith had adequate space to cultivate a good physical education program, making it easier to qualify for accreditation.

As we grew in structure and enrollment we outgrew our library facilities. In 1961 a new, modern library became a part of Griffith, and with the library wing came the addition of two new classrooms.

Until January of 1962, when this building was added, one cafeteria had to provide food for 1,719 children. This new cafeteria caters to the first through the fourth grades at lunch, and has provided a new place for social activities.

Foreword

Autumn 1961 AD—Diogenes, the little man proudly waving Griffith's banner on page one, wandered into Griffith School.

Diogenes, the ancient Greek philosopher, according to the legend, "lit a lamp in broad day light and went about looking for the honest man." Having no success in Greece, he devised a plan. He would find a suitable society for his experiment; then he would move in and become one of its members. He felt that by putting himself in their shoes, he could find his honest man. He considered Griffith a suitable society, and asked the Annual Staff to be his host in aiding him in his endeavor.

We were lucky to have a good year with which to impress Diogenes. Nationally many things happened: Roger Maris set a new world's record for the most home runs in a single season; a new dance raged the country—not only the teen-agers, but everyone did the "twist"; a "New Frontier" was explored by Col. John Glenn, On February 20, 1962—a day when the whole nation was proud and prayerful. At home in North Carolina Quality Education was the big news, while Griffith herself became accredited by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

A tremendous number of events happened this year at Griffith; many events we tried to cover during Diogenes' visit, but it was impossible to relate all of them. Now these historical, and sometimes "hysterical", moments rest in the minds of those who had the good fortune to experience them.

We Dedicate

to you, Mrs. Virginia Mickey, the 1962 BLUE AND GOLD

because you are dedicated to us.

Mrs. Mickey, you have shown a special concern for us as individual students. Your interest in us has been that of one who is a genuine friend and a respector of our goals and ideals.

The respect and regard felt for you by your students, was shown on Teacher Appreciation Day.

Our Faculty

"Griffith has one very evident quality—a student body which has, for the most part, accepted the responsibility of providing the faculty with optimum teaching conditions." This is the opinion of Mrs. Judy Harne, English teacher new to Griffith this year.

"I think Griffith's most outstanding feature is its curriculum. I am amazed at the size of the curriculum compared to the size of the school," asserted Mr. Claude Edwards, industrial arts teacher.

"The sincerity of purpose of the students stands out. The warmth and friendliness among the students, and teachers is notable," said Miss Alwayne McClure, senior English teacher.

"I think the most outstanding feature of Griffith is the teacher-pupil relationship. I find here a friendliness between teacher and pupil, and at the same time there is respect one for the other," commented Miss Sarah Hunter, mathematics teacher.

Mr. R. L. Kuykendall, principal, as well as the entire faculty, was made happiest this year by Griffith's accreditation in December by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

MISS DONNA MILLER
Assistant Secretary

Alert to ever-changing trends and needs in education, Mr. R. L. Kuykendall, principal, provides an outstanding curriculum for the students at Griffith. His contact with the high school boys and girls displays understanding, interest, and friendliness. "It is wonderful to watch a student grow like a flower from day to day," declares Mr. Kuykendall.

Mr. Robert Bost, assistant principal, undertook his new job with an energetic spirit that won him the favor of the student body. No matter how big the task or hard the assignment, Mr. Bost tackles the situation with zeal.

Mrs. Eunice Peterson, school secretary, performs many varied tasks each day. Working behind the scenes, while administrators, teachers, and students labor, Mrs. Peterson is the cog that keeps the school wheel running smoothly.

Miss Donna Miller, assistant secretary, takes much pressure off Mrs. Peterson by helping with the typing, writing checks, and answering the telephone.

Mrs. Peterson and Donna Miller begin the day by counting school money and putting mail in the teachers' boxes.

English develops self-expression and creativity.

No graduate can escape taking four years of English. Two new courses were added to the curriculum for upper classmen this year; for college-bound seniors, a course in creative writing, and a class in speech was offered as an elective. The freshman began a more intense study of grammar while vocabulary study and world literature were emphasized for the sophomores. The juniors and seniors worked hard to master speech as well as understand and appreciate American and English literature.

Terry Greene is quick to respond to Mrs. Daniel's questions in English Class.

Miss Johnson records Patty Hooper's voice for tone during speech class.

Mrs. Harne gives Tommy Keicher a helping hand during a diagramming exercise.

Kay Shutt, Bobby Zimmerman, and Dennis Morris admire each other's work on an English literature project, "Beowulf," which they prepared for Miss McClure's class.

Juniors use the time before homeroom as a much-needed study period.

Science prepares youth of today for world of tomorrow.

Mathematics, a subject which requires much thought and study, is used in many occupations because of its importance. The fundamentals of mathematics are taught in the freshman and sophomore years. Geometry enters the picture for the juniors and seniors. All college-bound students are required to take at least three years of math with the academic seniors studying a half year of college-level math.

Mrs. Smothers illustrates one of the properties of a triangle.

To prove the answer to one of their difficult area problems, Mr. Reed's general math class uses stakes and a rope.

Russel Blackburn and Fred Cox look on as Dinky Darnell works one of those "hard" trigonometry problems.

History and foreign language
create an understanding of other peoples.

United States history students listen carefully as Mrs. Jefferson gives them an assignment.

Griffith has followed the modern trend of placing more emphasis on foreign language. Creating the most interest this year was conversational Russian. Students, who received no credit, were taught the course twice a week during their study halls by Forsyth County's roving language teacher. In French I and II classes emphasis is centered around speaking as well as comprehending and writing the language. For those students desiring to build a better foundation for understanding English words, Latin II was offered.

Mrs. Livengood listens carefully as students respond in French.

History through the ages has been the study of mankind's earliest conquests to his present-day discoveries. World history, U. S. history, and contemporary affairs are offered at Griffith. The current affairs class is new with juniors and seniors eligible. The sophomores are required to take world history while juniors are required to take U. S. history.

Contemporary affairs students learn much about current affairs by using the newspaper, Newsweek, and the television.

Members of the Russian class study dialogue sheets after Mrs. Mary Ann Oakley, Russian teacher, has played the accompanying record.

MRS. THELMA RIGGS

Wanda Baker helps Mrs. Godwin average grades.

Mrs. Riggs is leaving Griffith to visit the home of a child who needs medical attention.

Mrs. Riggs seldom has any free time, for she is always looking after sick students or visiting homes of students who do not receive proper medical care.

Mrs. Godwin performs an indispensable service counseling students, administering tests, and aiding seniors in applying for college entrance and scholarships. She is available five periods a day to help the high school students with any problems with which they may be faced. Fifth period she teaches Latin.

Rita Snyder asks of her Latin classmates, Christine Brewer and Janet Taylor, "Ego amo te me amas?"

In Mrs. Godwin's office, Bonnie Kimel, Essie Krites, and Sara Campbell wait for Mrs. Godwin to help them prepare their schedules for next year.

Vocational courses ready future citizens.

Distributive education is the study of business practices and ethics in reality rather than in theory. Students are allowed to work "on the job." This course also makes it possible for the pupils to be paid while learning and affords better job opportunities for those who enter the business world after graduation.

Brenda Snyder and Judy Swicegood are shown the proper way to fill out an income tax form by Mr. Beck, distributive education coordinator.

These boys are using their skills in making beautiful items for the home in the industrial arts class.

Industrial arts is taught for boys who are interested in making useful items for their homes. Griffith requires one year of industrial arts. Boys who take this course study different phases of carpentry, leather works, and ceramics.

Griffith's home economics students are taught cooking and sewing and anything necessary for good homemaking. The first year classes are taught everything from child care to making a garment. The second and third year pupils are concerned with a more intensive phase of home economics. An additional teacher was added this year making it possible to offer a third year of home economics.

Mrs. Osborne's home economics class studies types of stitches.

The science curriculum, revised to meet changing needs, offered a more advanced course for freshmen. Exploratory science, gave senior boys a chance to experiment and perform scientific projects. Biology is required for sophomores; juniors and seniors are offered physics and chemistry.

The physics class uses weights in many experiments.

One of Mr. Hinnicutt's physical education classes compete in a game of "kill."

P. E. nurtures poise.

Physical fitness has become a major objective for the youth of America. The physical education program at Griffith is doing its share to promote better understanding of both physical and mental health. Included in this course are gymnastics, sports, and, of course, class work.

Music is universal communication.

The music department helps to make well-rounded students and to get students more interested in all phases of music. Musical instruction in a variety of instruments, including the piano, is available to interested students. Music Appreciation is also taught giving a better understanding of classical music and opera.

Mrs. Diener helps Sharon Pope become familiar with an aria from Pagliacci.

Library is hub of study.

The hub of study at Griffith is the high school library where every day from 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. students ranging from eighth graders to seniors can be found reading, doing research, or simply enjoying the facilities offered. The librarian and her assistants are always there to help students utilize the vast quantity of information to be found.

The library is usually filled with students doing research work or recreational reading.

Business education encourages accuracy.

Students wishing to enter business or secretarial work are taught the basic courses that will assist them in whatever business career they should choose. Among the business courses are. typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, office practice, and business law.

Service makes the school go 'round.

Percy Snyder, custodian of the school, has his days filled with maintaining heat in the buildings, trimming the lawns, and keeping the physical plant operating smoothly.

Mr. Ernest Foltz, school maintenance man, is never idle either, for there are always several repair jobs that need to be done around the school.

These two men strive to keep the school in "apple pie" condition.

Percy and Mr. Foltz are busy repairing the door to Mrs. Hill's room.

Our lunchroom staff works diligently every day preparing nourishing meals for the student body and planning well-balanced menus for the following days. At 10:30 "recess" is served for those students who cannot wait for lunch. The workers arrive early to begin the day's preparation.

The lunchroom staff, supervised by Mrs. Esther George, completes its day of preparation and lunch planning. MRS. SPRINKLE, MRS. LINEBACK, MRS. LOWERY, MRS. TESH, MRS. TALBERT, DONALD CONRAD, MRS. SAPP, MRS. POTTS, DELORES AMOS, BERNARD SINGLETARY, MISS PARKS, MRS. HOLDER, and MRS. GEORGE.

"Making the honor roll. "

"Having such a good Hi-Y basketball team. "

As we, the Seniors of 1962, approach graduation, varied memories of our years in high school flow through our minds.

Our freshman year began with getting acquainted with our teachers (some of the boys went about it in the wrong way) and adjusting to the "life" of a teenager with new responsibilities. Our sophomore year we felt a little more at home, knew our way around, and looked down on the "lowly" freshmen, even though we had been in their position just a year before. Our junior year found us right in the middle of everything—Student Council, athletics, and clubs. We eagerly awaited our first Junior-Senior and the announcement of junior marshals. Our senior year saw us the winners of the class quizzes and the proud parents of our Project Fairyland Christmas. We also realized that this was our last year as a member of the student body of "dear ole G.H.S." But no one could say that it hadn't been a wonderful four years.

G.H.S.

Even without a microphone, senior class president, DOUG MITCHELL, could be heard throughout the auditorium at a class meeting.

Vice-president, CHARLIE SMITHSON, had his one claim to fame in the school cafeteria, his one opportunity to preside at class meeting.

NANCY STOWE, secretary, is swamped with orders for invitations and calling cards.

BECKY KASUBOSKI, treasurer, finds money coming from all directions for class dues and Christmas cards.

Class Poem

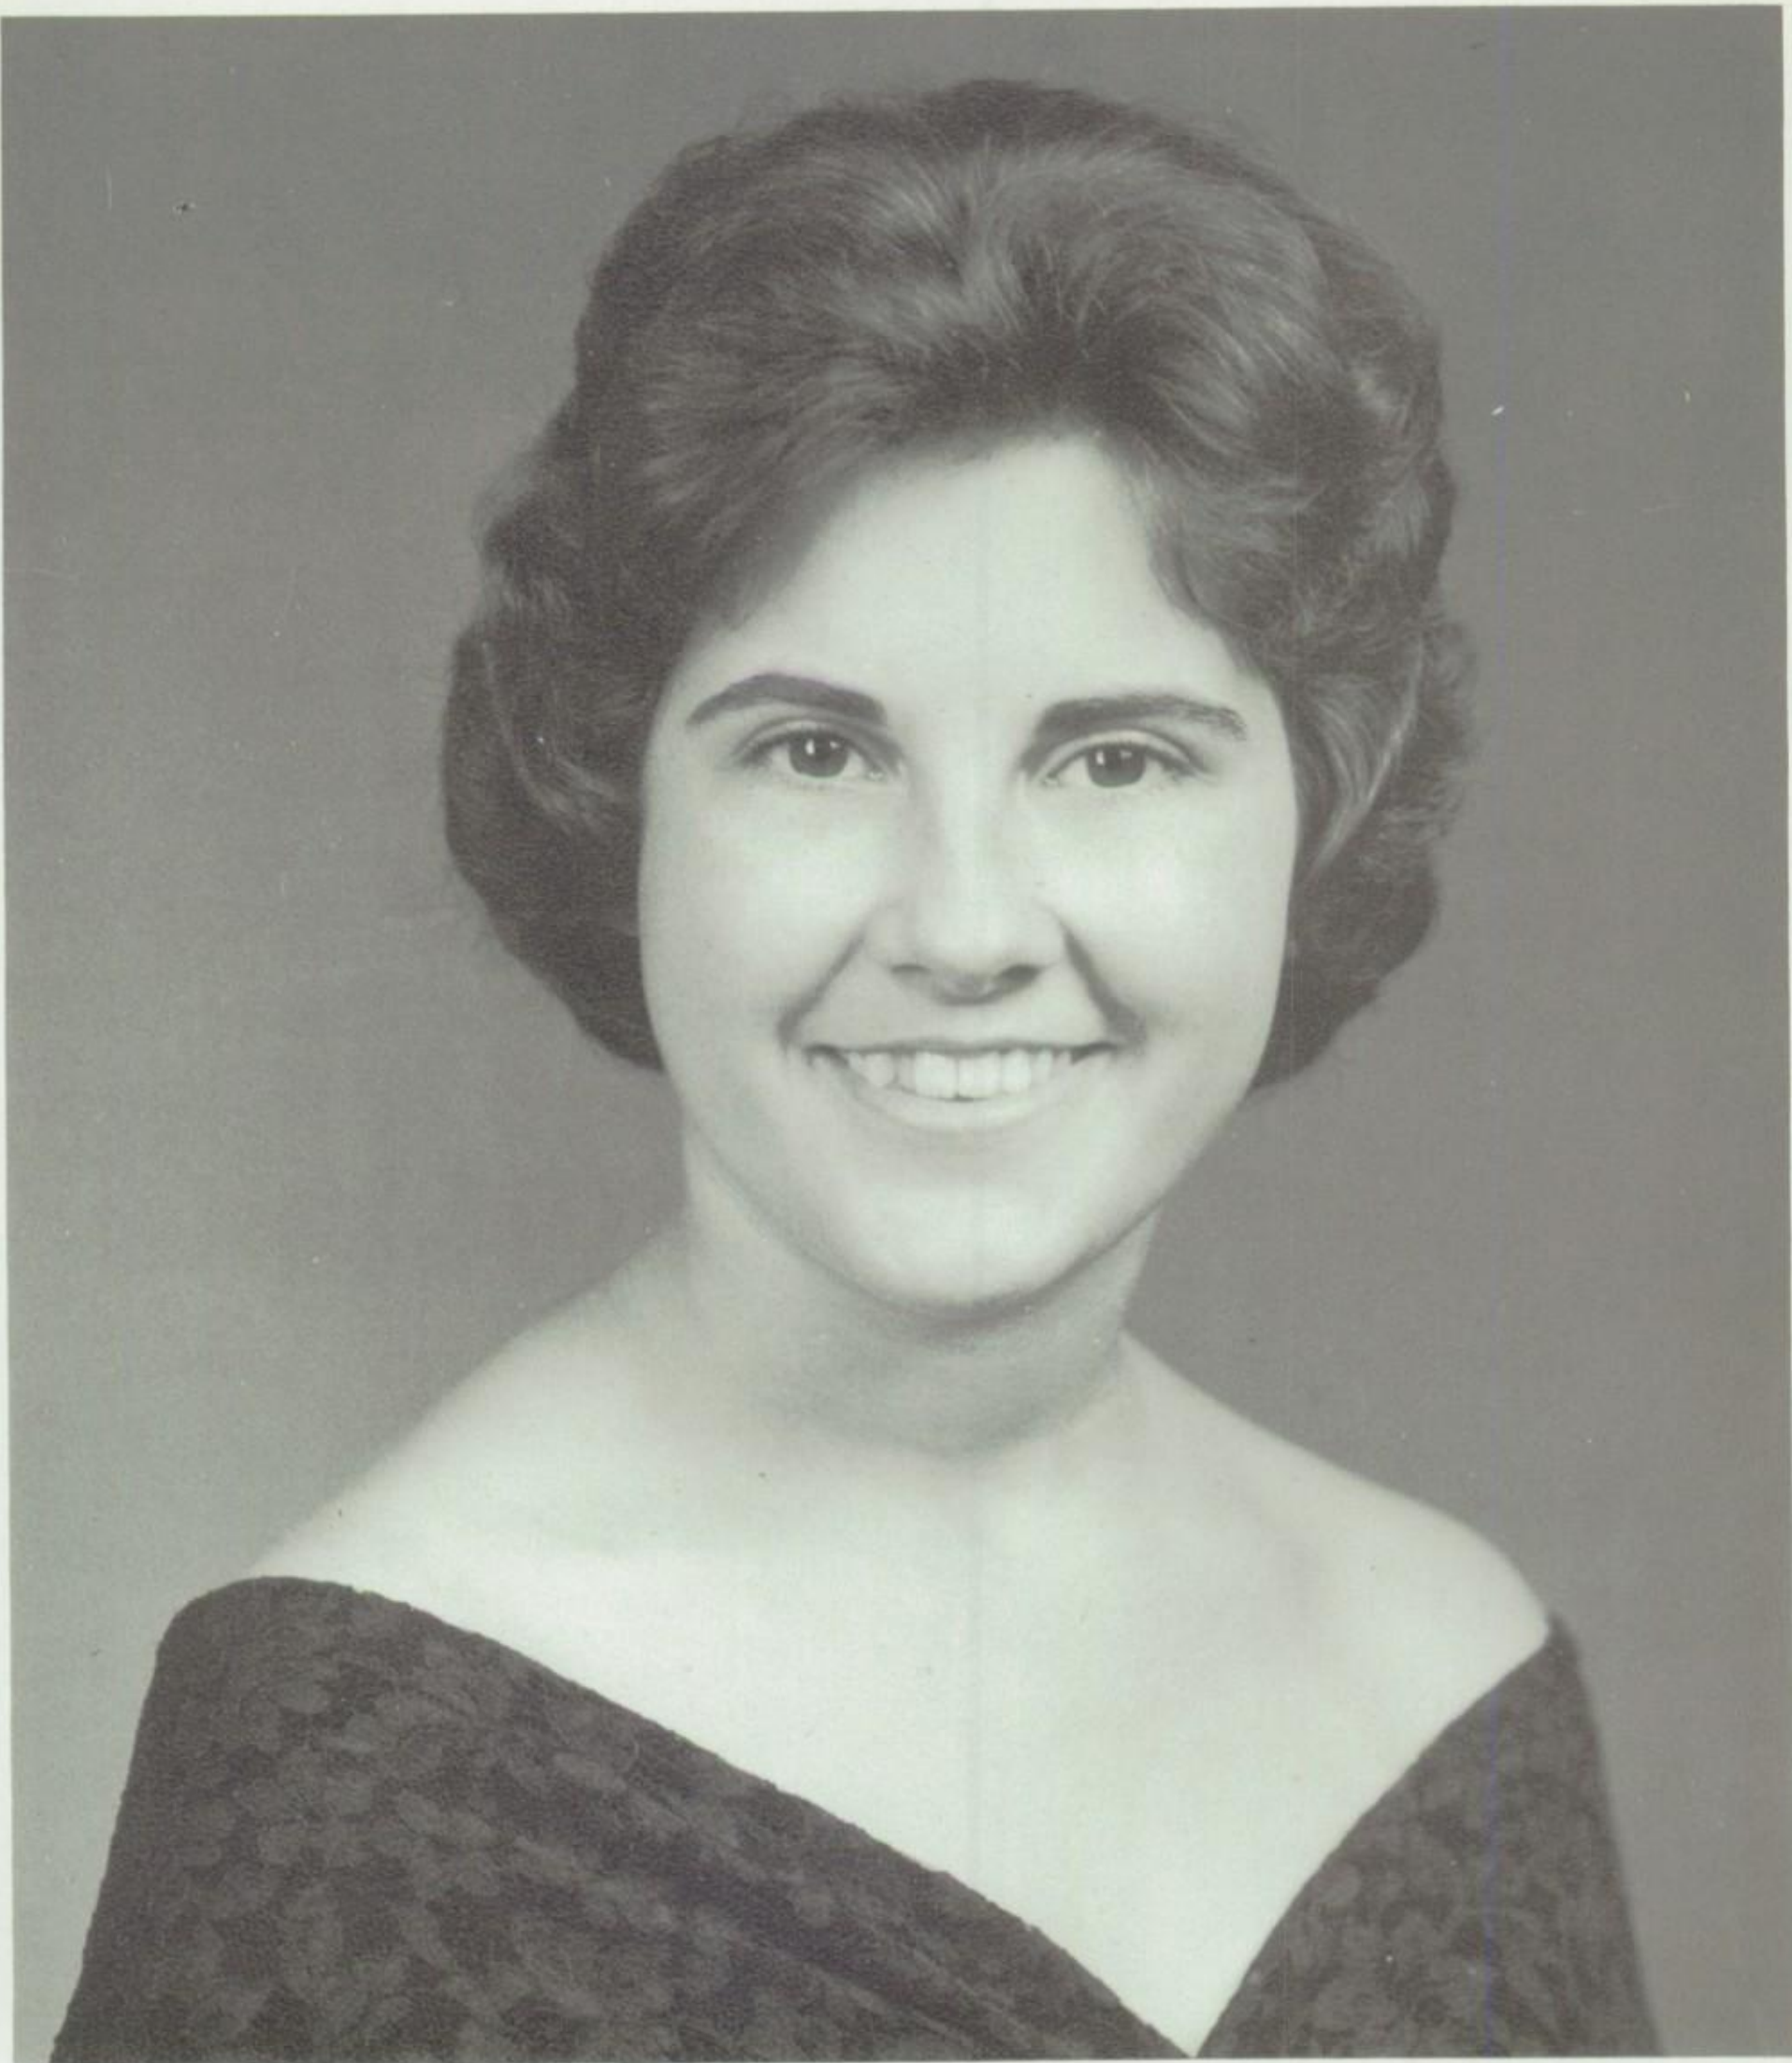

The hour nears when we must leave
The thought makes us unwilling to believe
That we've spent our last year at Griffith High
It is so difficult to say good-bye.

We leave the certainty of high school years
As the challenge of the future appears
With God's help we shall meet
This great challenge without defeat.

Twelve years of memories are in our minds
As sadly every Senior finds
That he shall not pass this way again
Our high school career has come to an end.

Each Senior robed in cap and gown
Makes no movements, makes no sound
Our final goodbye we leave to you
From the Senior Class of '62.

Best Citizen

BECKY KASUBOSKI

An efficient and capable leader, Becky has served enthusiastically and loyally her school, her community, her church in many capacities. She was chosen by the Junior Class and the faculty to receive the Best Citizen Award given annually by the Civitan Club to an outstanding senior. The Best Citizen is selected on the basis of these qualities: character, scholarship, service, loyalty and cooperation, and sincerity.

BECKY KASUBOSKI

Valedictorian

Through natural ability, daily preparation, and determination to meet the goal that she set for herself as a freshman, Becky Kasuboski has earned the honor of being valedictorian of the senior class. Becky has proved herself a capable student in both scholarship and extra-curricular activities.

GARY HILL

Salutatorian

Gary Hill, who came to Griffith from Liberty School his sophomore year, is salutatorian. Although he was unfamiliar with Griffith's routine, Gary quickly adapted himself and became a top student and a popular leader.

Hall of Fame

Students who have achieved in some phase of a senior's life—in scholarship, in athletics, in poise and popularity—and have not been recognized for these achievements elsewhere in the annual, have been placed in the Hall of Fame.

Junior Marshals

Marshals are chosen each year from the Junior Class on the basis of scholastic achievement. These marshals are well-rounded people belonging to many honor and fun organizations. By being chosen a marshal, a junior is honored for his diligent study and brilliant mind.

Having proved herself "tops" scholastically in her class, Ann was chosen chief marshal. She is an active member in many of Griffith's service and honor clubs. Ann, being efficient in many ways, is called on to do anything and everything! Her good character and industriousness have earned her the respect of the people in her community as well as her schoolmates.

"This year I am eligible to compete in varsity sports."

"There's the excitement of attending more parties and meeting more students."

These are some of the opportunities that begin to reach all sophomores in this important year of high school.

This year's tenth grade is one of the largest sophomore classes ever to have been at Griffith. All tenth graders are happy to be sophomores. The reasons for this attitude are that they have the feeling of growing up, they are having a more exciting sophomore year than their freshman year, and they are participating in more of the school activities. This is the life of a sophomore.

Freshmen

"Participating in high school activities..."

"Having class meetings..."

"The experience of meeting new people and having more freedom..."

These are activities the ninth grader considers the advantages of being a freshman.

However, the disadvantages of being a freshman were almost as numerous as the advantages:

"Being an underclassman..."

"Being called to chapel last..."

"Waiting in line for lunch fifteen minutes and eating it in five minutes..."

"Being three years younger than those senior boys..."

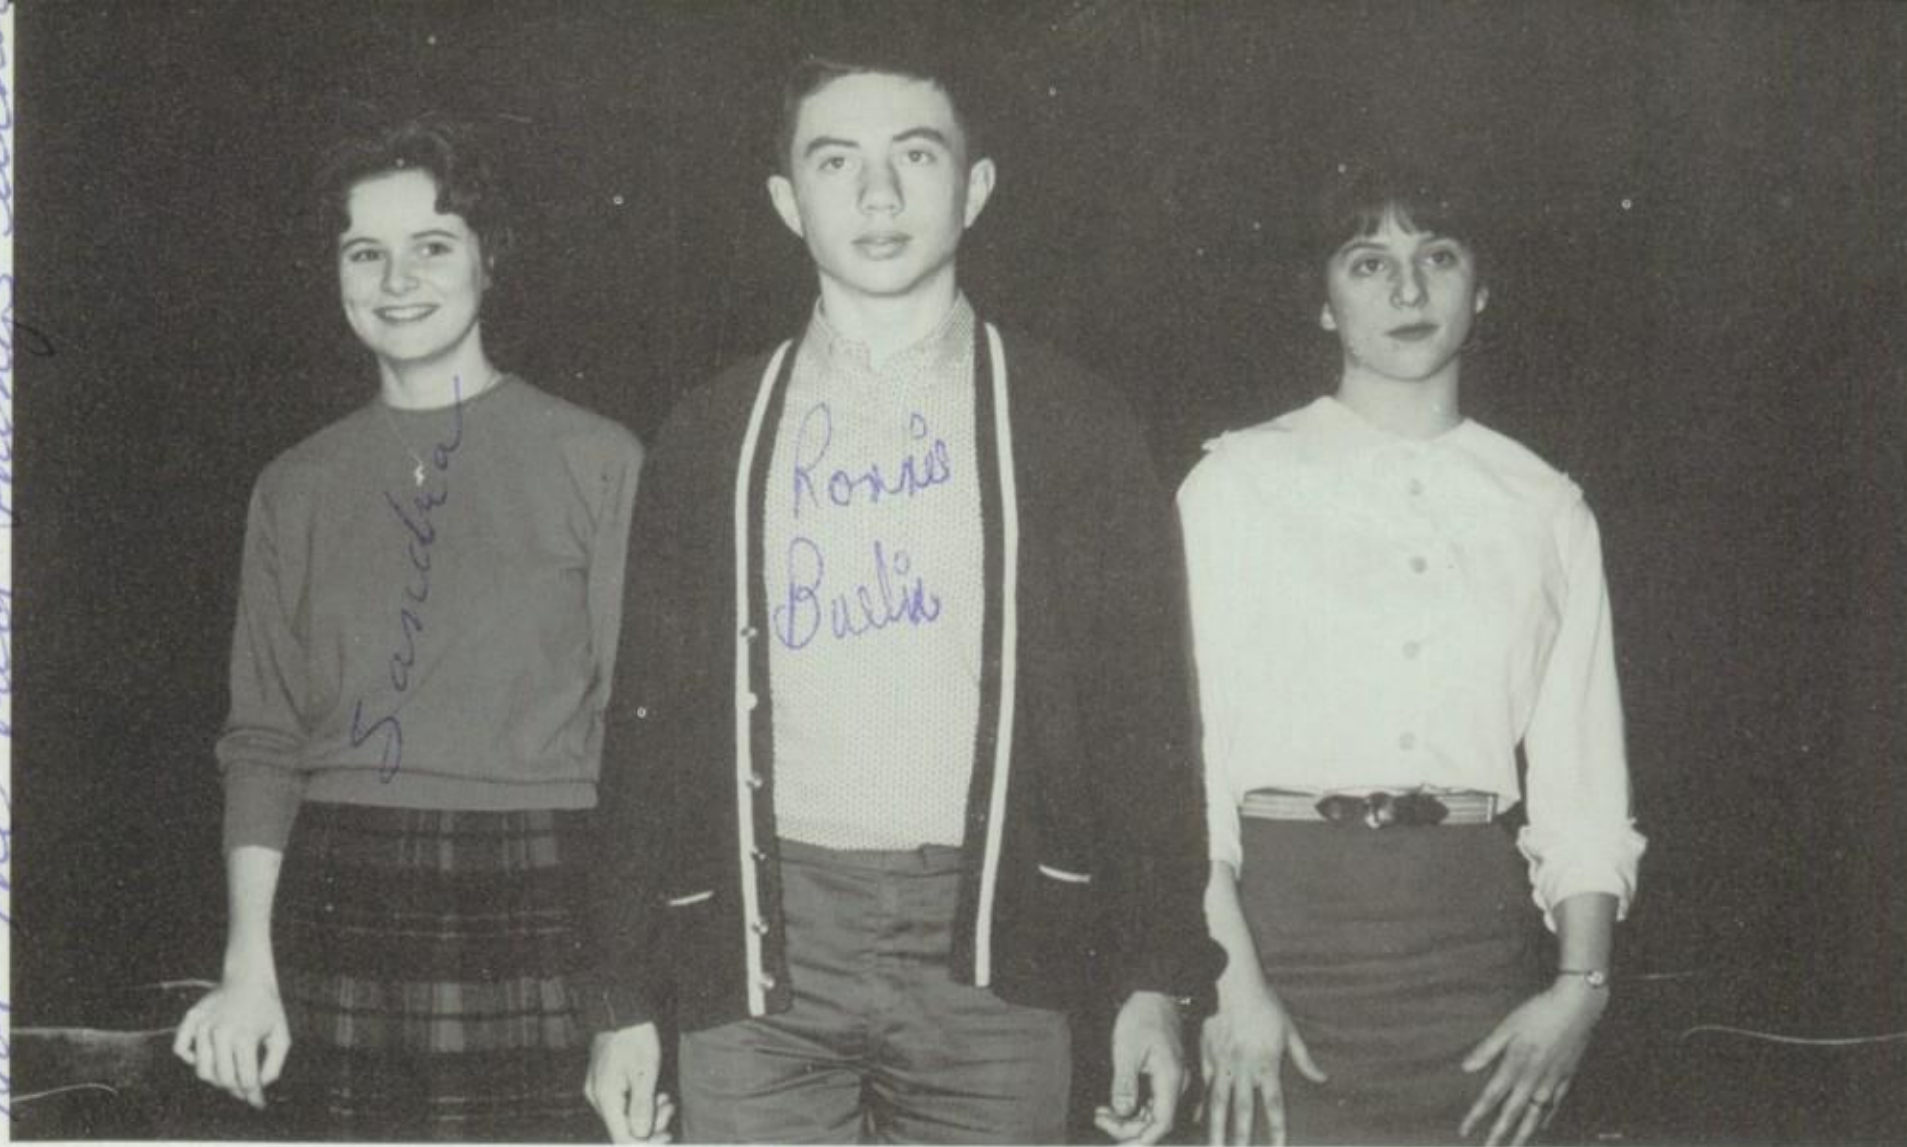

The freshman year is a year of building a foundation which will last the rest of the high school years. This year's Freshman Class has succeeded in learning the art of moving from one floor to another, going to lockers and back to class in four minutes, gulping lunch, and standing while the "mighty" seniors come to chapel.

The freshmen have the largest class in high school. If they were overcome by the size of the high school, the high school was doubly overcome by the size of them.

Activities

As school opened in September, Griffith High once again became the center of each student's life. He returned to the busy land of homework, sports, and activities.

The school spirit at Griffith lived on through the year, but the fun of night meetings died. No longer did the reporter say, "Key Club meeting tonight at seven," but instead, "Key Club meeting today at lunch."

This rule did little to hurt activities at G.H.S. The Anchor Club still had its Admiral and the Key Club its Sweetheart. The Bible Club met on Sundays and ball games were played after school on Tuesdays. The Library Club worked hard to make Book Week at Griffith a big success. Inductions were held throughout the year and all those excelling were honored.

Experiences through clubs were varied: the trip to Wilmington for the band, the trip to New York for the Y-Teens; building a float for the cheerleaders, and basketball for the Hi-Y. All these things made this school year more exciting.

Through clubs and organizations the students of Griffith learned the importance of togetherness and the revelation that working as a group can bring.

of activities

That's the best picture in the whole book!

Student Council is an organization "of the students, by the students, and for the students." Class tournaments, the Blue and Gold Revue, two major dances, motion pictures, and worthwhile and interesting assembly programs are many of the activities sponsored by this representative body to make the "scholar's" life more exciting.

Freshman and sophomore council members Daniel Long, Pat Darnell, Terry Greene, Susan Mendenhall, Ricky Welborn, Steve Head, Sandra Pierce and Diane Carter, pack food for a needy family.

Junior and senior members of the council—Terry Swicegood, Patty Maynard, Teena Willard, Judy Blackburn, Susan Young, Bonnie Kimel, Robert Barlow, Ralph Sharpe and Charlie Smithson—consider those worthy of being Boy and Girl of the Month.

Mrs. Godwin, sponsor, discusses a lunchroom problem with Jackie Bennett, treasurer; Sandra Berrier, secretary; Don Tesh, vice-president; Becky Kasuboski, senior executive member; and Gary Hill, president.

staff snaps satisfactory shots.

Every ounce of energy and talent possessed by the staff was aroused this year. Whether it was need for a photographer, a writer, an artist, or a typist, the need was always filled by one of the fifteen members of the BLUE AND GOLD staff. For the first time in many years all the art work and almost all the group pictures were produced by staff members.

Carol Shaw and Ann Hire hear comments from Mrs. McNatt, yearbook sponsor, on pictures taken by Ann, staff photographer.

Charles Robinson and Herman Johnson find that Nancy Boone and Ann Fogleman are handy when it comes to matching pictures with lay-out sheets.

Patty Maynard shows Lynn Eddinger and Linda McGowan the importance of good arrangement.

Gary Hill, Edgar Miller, and Terry Swicegood peer from the crow's nest while attempting to determine the best angle for taking sports shots.

Clarion - Monthly

The CLARION, school newspaper, is published monthly during the school year by the staff, composed of students taking journalism. Journalism is offered as an elective to students who meet certain qualifications.

Mike Hampton, assistant editor, and Miss Selvey Johnson, journalism teacher and sponsor of the CLARION, re-write a story handed in by an inexperienced reporter.

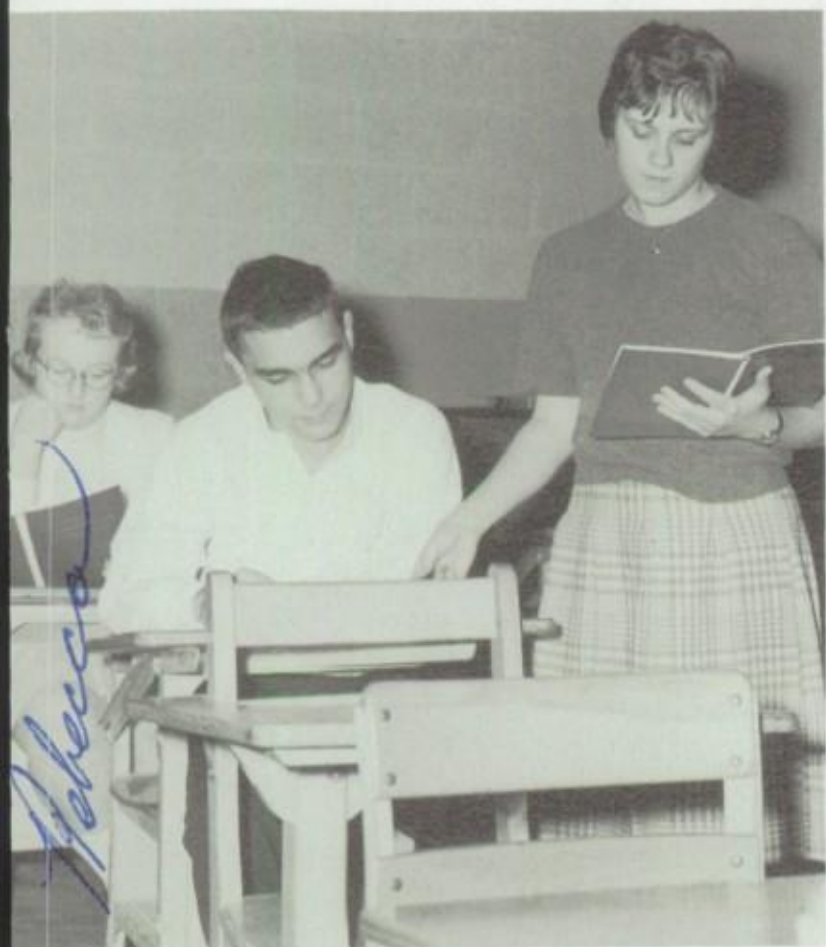

Editor Ralph Sharpe lays out final plans for the CLARION.

Russell Marion, advertising manager, and Linda Southern, business manager, rush to meet a deadline.

Mirror of Griffith

Learning to put the five w's of journalism to work are Rebecca Myers, Mike Mecum, and Linda Fulp.

Looking for news everywhere are Wally Lewis, Charles Morrison, Tommy Keicher, and "Do" Barlow.

Pat Elliott, Jerry Swicegood, Beverly Burwell, and Linda Hege are eager to begin selling CLARIONs.

Reporters Richard Snyder, Sandra Overby, Jerry Mecum, and Sue Perryman find there is news in many places around the school.

Living up to the honor bestowed upon them are journalist, Linda Southern, and publications workers, Nancy Stowe, Susan Young, and Gary Hill.

New members of Quill and Scroll rejoice after the induction.

Quill and Scroll taps nine in unique induction.

The Quill and Scroll is an honor club for those who have excelled in the field of publications. A member must be in the top third of his class and have performed outstanding work in some phase of journalism or publications. Mrs. McNatt is sponsor.

The Anchor Club, sponsored by Miss Hunter, is an honor club for girls who possess leadership, pleasing personality, and good character. Their chapel program, given during Twirp Week, was a big success. The girls sponsor a Korean orphan, and as an act of hospitality, serve oranges to the visiting basketball teams. The girls chose as Admiral their favorite high school boy.

Terry Swicegood, president of the Key Club, hands Lynn Eddinger her "bunch" or roses after she had been named Sweetheart.

The Key Club is an international organization for boys sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. To be inducted, a boy must have finished his freshman year and proved himself in leadership, scholarship, and service. This club has many projects, such as, collecting for Good Will Industries and buying a record player for the school.

Senior Y-Teens mend toys.

Senior Y-Teens, sponsored by Miss McClure, is a club composed of junior and senior girls who are interested in serving their community. They are members of a world-wide organization of women and girls of all races, colors, and creeds. The girls participate in activities sponsored by the YWCA as well as carry on their own projects within the club.

Y-Teens pause for devotions at one of their meetings held at the Y. W. C. A.

Ann Hire, Sara Campbell, and Hilda Craver mend toys at the Christmas workshop, one of the club projects for this year.

Basketball became the chief interest of the Hi-Y boys this year. They had weekly ball games against other uncoached amateur teams.

Hi-Y enjoyed good basketball season.

Hi-Y is a subdivision of the YMCA handled locally through the school with Mr. Page as sponsor. The boys are elected to club membership on the basis of character, scholarship, and Christian attitude. These boys have an enthusiastic basketball team who competes with Hi-Y teams from other schools.

Charlie Smithson and Alvin Johnson enter the Y Gym to watch a game. President Charlie, who played varsity ball, was not allowed to play for the team. Alvin is vice-president.

Putting up signs to encourage membership are Beverly Fain, Norma Greene, Lynn Eddinger, Patsy Lineberry, Bettie Thomas, and Jackie Phipps.

Future Homemakers of America get practical experience.

Preparing to make punch, which is a regular responsibility of the F.H.A., are Susan Barton, Jane Spach, Norma Greene, and Jeanne Greene.

In class Mrs. Osborne, sponsor, teaches the girls to cook and to be better homemakers. The F. H. A. gives the girls a chance to put this instruction into action. They prepare refreshments for many of the school functions and serve at some of them. One of their most enjoyable experiences was their Mother-Daughter Banquet held in the lunchroom this year.

Osborne, sponsor, Martha Ball, Lynn Eddinger, Beverly Fain, Jane Spach, Faye Burgess, Martha Tesh, Norma Greene, Jeanne Greene, Susan Barton, and Faye Boyd.

Waiting their turn at the desk are Jane Spach, Linda Hege, Judy Miller, Linda Southern, Rachel Fishel, and Judy Perrell. Becky Kasuboski seems to like teaching fine!

Future teachers Dennis Myers, vice-president; Brenda Teague, president; Patty Maynard, secretary; and Sharon Pope, treasurer, prepare a bulletin board in the elementary building.

Examining film strips and college bulletins given them by Mrs. Godwin are Hilda Craver, Beverly Burwell, Sue Perryman, and Janet Cobler.

Future Teachers of America aid faculty.

Students interested in entering the field of education are eligible to join the F.T.A., sponsored by Mrs. Godwin. When needed the members helped teachers grade tests and prepare records, duties with which all future teachers should be acquainted. F.T.A. members also serve as substitutes for teachers.

Junior Y-Teens see New York.

Freshmen and sophomore girls make up the membership of this organization, sponsored by Mrs. Mickey. They enjoyed swimming at the local "Y" and had fun at a party which was held in the basement of the "Y". The highlight of the year was a trip taken to New York by some of the Y-Teens.

Preparing to take up money for the March of Dimes are Jean Cox, Brenda Adams, Ginny Cox, and Martha Ball, as they receive collection cans from Mrs. Mickey.

President Sandy Smith and Sarah Holcomb admire souvenirs brought back from New York with Kay Kenny and Diane Cantrell.

The Bible Club met weekly at Advent Moravian Church with Peggy Shelton in charge of the programs, which ranged from the most serious and religious things in life to light comedy. Don Tesh directed the group singing. At Youth for Christ rallies on Saturday nights Don played the trombone. The school club was a branch of the Youth for Christ clubs of America.

Processing new books and repairing old ones are Alan Long, Clyde Lovelace, Mariah Hill, Don Snyder, Peggy Stilley, Nancy Mullis and Herbert Snyder.

Mariah Hill was crowned Library Queen at the club party in February.

Library Club sells paperback books.

The Library Club set as its main goal for the year creating an interest among students in accumulating a library of their own. They operated a paperback book store in the office of Mrs. McNatt, club sponsor. Another first for them was electing a Library Queen, who was chosen for these qualities: friendliness, helpfulness, co-operation, poise, and intelligence.

Members Diane Carter, Barbara Estep, Sammy Hutchins, Steve Long, Nancy Beeson, and Peggy Martin examine paperbacks to recommend to their classmates for purchase.

Students interested in science were eligible for membership in this club. It met weekly in the lab. This was the reconstruction of the science club which Griffith once knew.

Bus Drivers

The bus drivers must be a group of the most reliable boys in school. It is their job to transport students to and from school. Come rain or shine, they are on time.

A typical scene at 3:10 p. m.

"Yes, Mrs. Jones," answers bus driver Dennis Myers, "I'll wait for Susie while she eats her egg."

Safety Patrol

Mr. Smothers with his safety patrol, a group of elementary citizens, stands ready at all times to help keep order in the bus loading areas and on the buses.

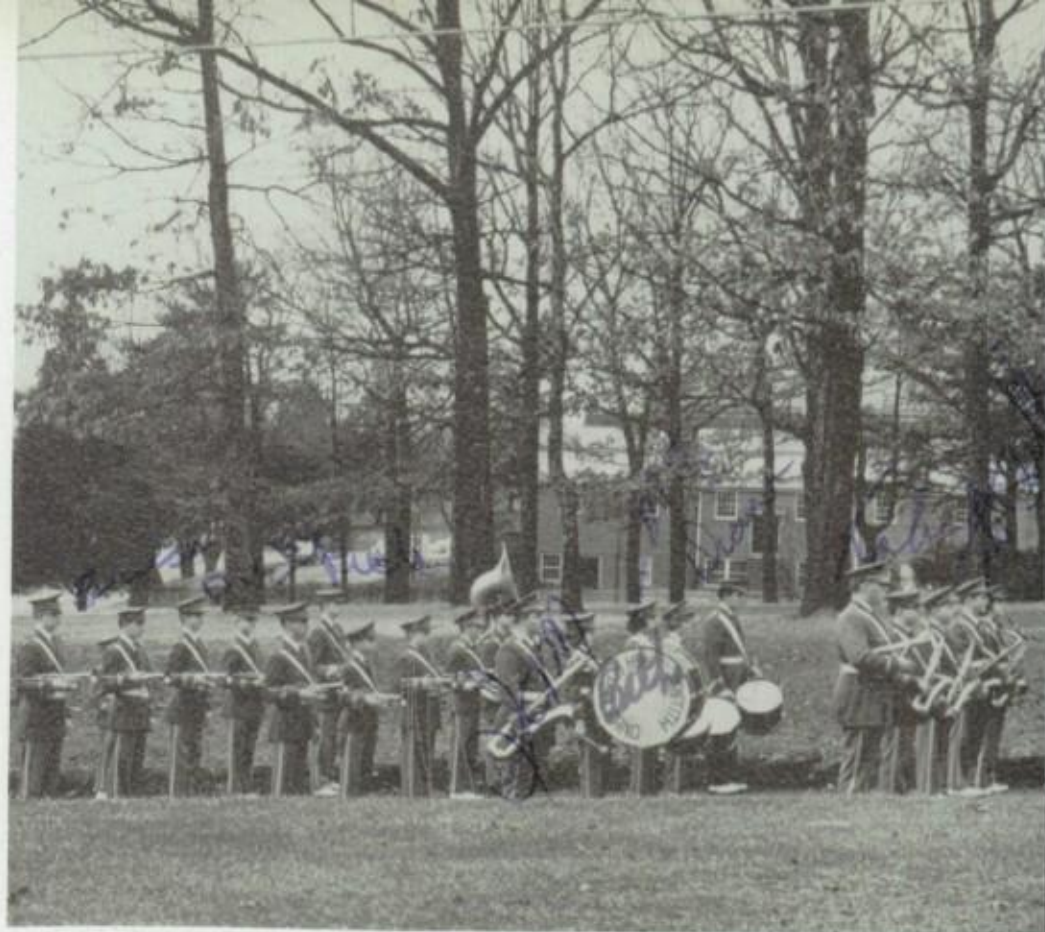

"But I was only joking when I said, 'Everyone shut up or get off', " says Mike Gough, of the Safety Patrol.

Band On The Go

Our band, under the direction of Mrs. Diener, is one of the best in the county. It has taken an active part in the Christmas Parade in Winston-Salem and the Azalea Festival in Wilmington, this being the second year the band has marched in the Azalea Parade. Performing for half-time shows at ball games is only half their chore; they work hard during the winter months for concert season.

Band practices before marching in the downtown parade.

This year ends the fourth term as drum major for Edgar Miller. He is the first to serve all four years in high school in this position.

JANET COBLER and SUE PERRYMAN, Chief and Co-chief majorette.

The little majorettes are under the direction of Chief Majorette Janet Cobler. They are called Pantherettes. Girls in the third through the fifth grades participate in this group.

Band members in the Sportsman Day Parade are D. BLIZZARD, D. BROOKSHIRE, R. BUELIN, D. CAMPBELL, P. CHARLES, T. DAVIS, J. FISHEL, P. FISHEL, J. FOLTZ, R. GORDON, M. HAIGWOOD, B. HARPER, J. Athletics

"Put your head down when you hit the line, Gray," barks Coach Hunnicutt in a practice session.

"Oh, we should have won that Northwest game," is the united moan from the tired players after their great effort against Northwest.

"Come on, Gary, and put it in," chant the cheerleaders as Co-Captain Hill steps up to the foul line.

"Maynard Scores Eighteen as the Panther Sextet Trips Glenn 47-36," are the headlines in the Winston-Salem JOURNAL.

These portray typical scenes in this past athletic year at G.H.S. Although the teams' records were not as good as those hoped for, the players showed determination and effort. Enthusiasm was high among students and the teams had much support. The varsity teams had many underclassmen participating so that the Griffith teams of the future promise to be powerhouses.

The Monogram Club members reminisce about their initiation day while watching Judy Blackburn mimic her act.

Vice-President Patty Mayanrd, Secretary Judy Blackburn, and Treasurer Becky Kasuboski aid President Wayne Burton to display jerseys which the Monogram Club sold this year.

Letters for the Betters in Sports

The Monogram Club is made up of those who have excelled in the sports field. To be eligible one must have played ball a certain number of quarters. After initiation a new member receives his letter for his particular sport. This club sponsors the concession stand operated at every home game. Proceeds go to the club's treasury. Also this year, as a money-making project, the Monogram members sold jerseys on which were designs representing the G.H.S. Panthers.

Opening the concession stand are Johnny David, Dennis Myers, and William Pope. Mr. Ben Hunnicutt, sponsor, observes the testing of drinks made by the boys.

Three Panthers Make All-

The 1961 determined and hardfighting Panthers ended the season with a 3-7 won-lost record. Defense was the mainstay in the Panther's game. Although it wasn't a winning season, five games were lost by only one touchdown. Wayne Burton was voted on the All Conference team; Bill Adams and Dennis Myers received honorable mention.

PANTHERS WIN HOMECOMING GAME

A Griffith eleven whipped the Falcons of Madison-Madison 7-0 before a homecoming crowd. In the second period senior fullback Dinky Darnell caught a 30-yard pass from Billy Gray and was brought down on the two-yard line. On the next play Darnell scored over his left tackle. Tri-captain Kent Johnson kicked the extra point. In the third period Johnson intercepted a pass to stop the Falcon's strongest drive.

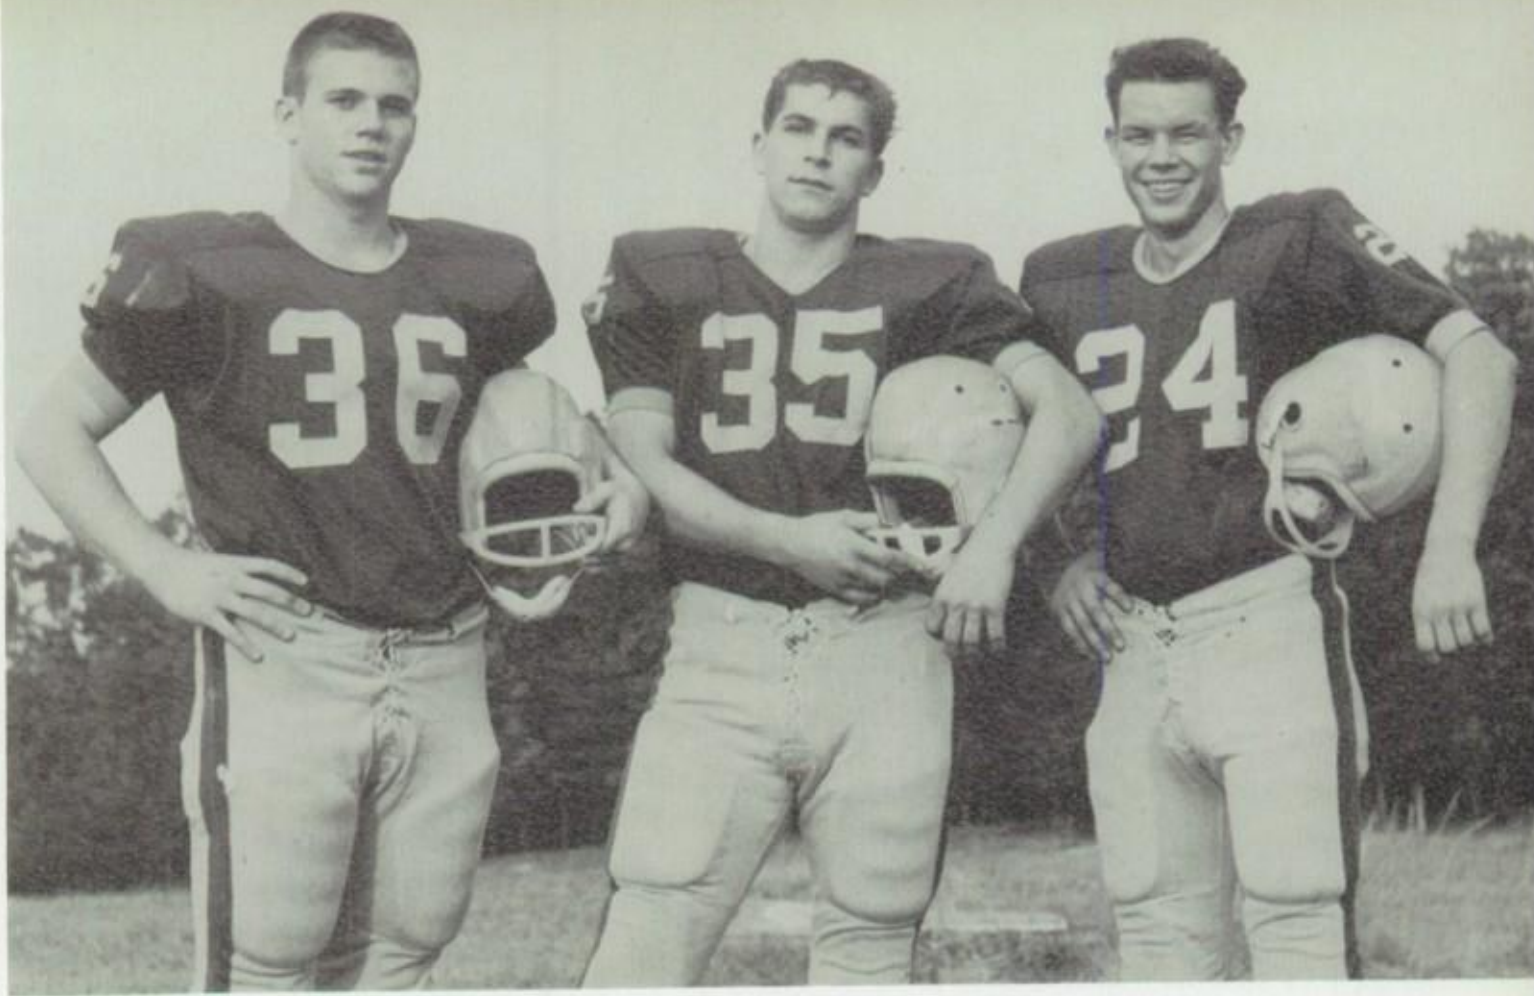

NORTHWEST 16—GRIFFITH 6

A fired-up Griffith defensive team led by senior tri-captains Adams, Burton, and Johnson held a power-packed Northwest team scoreless for three periods.

Bottom row: BILL BOLES, DANNY FISHEL, WAYNE HILL, SKIPPER MYERS, SAM RAY, WILLIAM POPE, CHARLES ROBINSON, DAVID SINK. Middle row: JOHNNY DAVIS, EUGENE HARTMAN, BILL ADAMS, RALPH DAVIS, DENNIS MYERS, JERRY COCKERHAM, FRED COX, WAYNE BURTON, KENT JOHNSON. Top row: DINKY DARNELL, JOHNNY MORGAN, ROBERT BARLOW, RUSSELL BLACKBURN, DOUG MITCHELL, RONNIE LEMONS, BILL GRAY, RICHARD SNYDER, DENNIS MORRIS.

After graduating the six most valuable players of the 1960-61 Forsyth Conference Championship team, Griffith was faced with rebuilding an entirely new team. Inexperienced players greeted Coach Ben Hunnicutt at the first practice. Many hours of hard work was spent moulding a group of five individuals into a team. The great improvement shown during the season was a fine tribute to the boys who played on the 1961-62 basketball team.

Strike 1!

The baseball team brought pride to Griffith baseball fans. Led by lettermen Bill Adams, Wayne Kiger, Wayne Burton, Johnny Davis, and Buddy Everhart, the Panther nine showed the best record in many years. Coach Smothers worked for perfection in the pick-off play, base-stealing, the hit-and-run, and the bunt.

Our Features

"Did you know that Mr. Hunnicutt is sponsoring Carol Shaw for Homecoming? Boy! is she excited!"

"I'll bet I know who the Key Club Sweetheart is. Tell me if I'm warm. Are her initials L.E.?"

"Len Chappell and Billy Packer. Big deal. Say, do you suppose that I could have my picture retouched?"

These were the sounds of anticipation heard on our campus during the year, and everybody knows that anticipation is half the fun of being a part of the big events and beauty honors at Griffith, even if one's only part is as a voter.

Oh yes, we can't forget the fellows—this year they were put in the spotlight by the Anchor Club, who decided to renew their old policy of electing an Admiral.

Here are featured these people who have been voted to represent all of the fine looking boys and charming girls at Griffith.
